HORSEWHIP USED BY ENRAGED WIFE ON LITTLE GIRLS

Mrs. Buchanan Charges Alienation Against 12-Year-Old Girl.

Jealous Rage Provokes Scene on Street.

STATEMENT OF BOTH SIDES.

Jealousy on the part of Mrs. Edith Buchanan, a well known music teacher, impelled her yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock to horsewhip pretty Neva Riley, the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Riley, at Fifth street and Kentucky avenue. She says Miss Riley is guilty of alienating the affections of her husband, Edward R. Buchanan, a R. F. D. mail carrier. The scene caused turmoil and Mrs. Buchanan was stopped by John J. Dorlan, former city treasurer, who happened to be passing.

Pearl Riley, 12 years old, Neva's sister, upon whom the assault was planned, fled and Neva interceded. "You are just as much to blame as Pearl," cried Mrs. Buchanan and with that she began lashing the girl over the head and shoulders. When Mr. Dorlan interfered Mrs. Buchanan climbed into her buggy and drove off, while the two girls rushed home. When seen by a reporter for The Sun this morning both Mrs. Buchanan and the family of Mr. Riley regretted the affair and gave explanations.

Pearl, who sings illustrated songs at the Kentucky theater, accompanied by Neva, was going north on Fifth street, and when they crossed Kentucky avenue they saw Mrs. Buchanan in company with her mother, driving down Kentucky avenue toward them. Mrs. Buchanan is said to have cried out, "Pearlie, Pearl, stop!" and then came to a standstill. She grabbed the buggy whip and jumped over the wheel and started after Pearl. Pearl ran and Neva told Mrs. Buchanan not to strike her. Witnesses say Mrs. Buchanan struck Neva over the head several times. Neva was so stunned by the lashes that she was unable to defend herself and Mr. Dorlan rushed to her aid. A large well was raised on her left cheek and her upper lip was cut. She complained of her head hurting today.

"I never regretted anything so much in my life," said Mrs. Buchanan to a reporter this morning, "but those girls had come between me and my husband and I was just driven to my conduct yesterday when I saw them. You may say that I intend to bring suit against them and Mrs. Riley, too, for alienating the affections of my husband."

Mrs. Riley and the two girls denied any association with Buchanan other than being on merely friendly terms, as they had been boarding at the same place several months.

Had Separated.

Mrs. Buchanan said that she and her husband had been separated last February in order to get out of debt, but no mention had ever been made of securing a divorce. She said her husband took up his abode at the Skelton boarding house, Sixth street between Jefferson and Monroe streets and the Rileys came back to the city from Oklahoma and took lodgings there also. She claims Pearl was too friendly with him and that while Pearl was in Princeton she and her husband corresponded and exchanged photographs.

Afterwards Mrs. Buchanan says the Rileys rented the two-story residence at 312 South Sixth street and took boarders. She said her husband moved with them. Several times Mrs. Buchanan said she has seen her husband driving with Pearl and Neva and it was more than she could stand. She admitted telephoning Mrs. Riley on several occasions and asking her to stop Pearl going with Buchanan. She says Mrs. Riley became mad and told her it was none of her business. Mrs. Buchanan said her husband would not give her any money and was neglecting his family, while he was spending it on Pearl and Neva. Riley. She said she knew she had acted disgracefully but was driven to it.

"I have consulted an attorney," she said, "about bringing suit against the girls for coming between me and my husband."

Her eyes were red, indicating that she had been crying over the affair yesterday.

The Rileys' Statement.
Mr. and Mrs. Riley and their two daughters gave statements to a reporter at their home this morning. Mrs. Riley said the girls were innocent, and as a matter of fact Mr. Buchanan would not live with his wife. She said they had only been friends and Mr. Buchanan had taken the girls riding in his buggy. Neva said that Mrs. Buchanan admonished her

Spain's New Cabinet Carries Out Alfonso's Program of Concession to Radical Element of Citizens

Kurdish Raiders Slaughtered by Turkish Troops on the Frontier--Vesuvius Again Active.

Madrid, Oct. 22.—The new cabinet headed by Moret began plans today for the reformation policy, ordered by Alfonso, compelling them to make radical changes to pacify the country.

The Old Cabinet.
The cabinet which resigned was formed January 25, 1907, with the following ministers:
Premier—Senor Maura.
Foreign Affairs—Senor Allendesalazar.

Justice—Marquis de Figueroa.
Finance—Senor Besada.
Interior—Senor de Lacierva.
War—General Linares.
Marine—Senor Fernandez.
Agriculture, Commerce and Public Works—Senor Sanchez Guerra.
Education—Senor Rodriguez San Pedro.

Preceding the formation of this cabinet there had been no less than five liberal ministries in 18 months. The religious issue had been the rock on which these ministries were wrecked, and the accession to power of Senor Maura, who had before held the premiership, was regarded as a sweeping victory for the clericals, and one likely to arouse a revolutionary spirit. This proved to be the case, the opposition finally uniting against the government's conduct and furtherance of the war in Morocco.

The stern measures taken to put down the recent anti-war demonstrations in Spain tended to inflame the opposition and the execution of Ferrer followed by popular demonstrations of disapproval brought matters to a crisis.

Government Assailed.
When parliament reopened the liberals, republicans and socialists bitterly assailed the government, but the cabinet showed a disposition to fight for its life.

There was a violent scene in the chamber of deputies when the opposition, headed by Senor Moret y Prendergast, the former premier, renewed its attack upon the government. Minister of the Interior Lacierva, however, declared that the ministry would not resign under threats. It was then believed that while Senor Moret was determined to unhorse Premier Maura the liberals as distinguished from the republicans and socialists did not desire to assume power, as under the circumstances they would then become responsible for the expenditures involved in the war in Morocco.

The fall of the cabinet was regarded as inevitable after the bitter speech of Minister of the Interior Lacierva in the chamber of deputies during which he classed the liberals with the republicans and socialists who were arrayed against the throne.

King Alfonso summoned Premier Maura, Senor Dato, former minister of the interior, and other leaders in parliament.

The impression continues that the liberals will refuse to assume power, preferring to leave the conservatives to extricate themselves from the present situation as best they may.

Vesuvius in Eruption.
Naples, Oct. 22.—The increased and her sister at Fifth and Clark streets Tuesday and had called Pearl over the telephone at the Kentucky several times, warning her to keep away from Mr. Buchanan. Neva said yesterday they never dreamed of an attack upon them by the woman. "I could have run with Pearl and escaped it," she said, "but I was not going to run from her. She had struck me several times when Mr. Dorlan came to my rescue."

Mr. Riley said he was of the opinion Mrs. Buchanan was unbalanced as she is of a good family. Mrs. Riley said they wish to be vindicated of any charge made by Mrs. Buchanan, and would rather take it to the courts than compromise, but their finances would not permit.

This morning Mr. Riley swore out a warrant, charging Mrs. Buchanan with striking and beating Neva with a buggy whip and cutting and bruising her.

It is understood that a compromise is pending in order to avoid the courts.

Mrs. Buchanan lives with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Will Ellithorpe, 533 South Eighth street. She is the mother of Elizabeth Buchanan, 5 years old, and is well known in the city. Mr. Riley and family have resided here many years. Mr. Riley formerly being a photographer under the firm name of Riley & Cook, and later with Siera. Some time ago he went to Oklahoma but returned here.

JEFF RETURNS.
New York, Oct. 22.—Jim Jeffries, with his wife, arrived today aboard the Lusitania. A tremendous crowd greeted him. He says he is ready to fight Johnson even tomorrow. violence of the eruption of Vesuvius connected with the earthquake shocks in Sicily and southern Italy, caused great alarm. Peasants are fearful of another Messina disaster, and are avoiding towns and are camping in the country. Vesuvius is throwing great quantities of stone, which is falling back into the crater with loud explosions. The natives fear that soon more will fall outside and wreak ruin.

Kurdish Raiders Massacred.

Bluefields, Nicaragua, Oct. 22.—Juan J. Estrada, provisional president of Nicaragua, today issued a proclamation, calling for a presidential election late in November. The proclamation says it is expected that at least two tickets will be in the field. The New Orleans Steamship company, operating between the two countries, is closed, and no attempt to run steamships will be made until the revolution is settled.

BRIDGE GRAFT IS AGAIN TALKED OF AT GRAHAMVILLE

Barkley's Compromise of the Smedley Shortage With Bonding Co.

Lightfoot Cement Plant is Under Lease.

OLLIE JAMES IS IN THE COUNTY.

Disregarding the request of his friend, Alben Barkley has made the affidavit an issue in the county campaign again, and last night in the debate between Thomas N. Hazelp and Alben W. Barkley, candidates for county judge, at Grahamville, the people had the first opportunity to hear both sides of the bridge graft. Rapt attention was given both speakers, while Mr. Barkley used jokes as a means to gain applause, but during his address proper not even Col. Gus G. Singleton applauded.

When Mr. J. T. Oliphant, president of the Vincennes Bridge company, made his affidavit he requested both speakers not to use his name and the name of his company in the county campaign any more. At Massac neither Mr. Hazelp nor Mr. Barkley mentioned the bridge graft in their main speeches, but in the rejoinder Mr. Barkley took occasion to say that Mr. Hazelp was through with the affidavits and with sarcasm said, "Bud, you have got enough of the affidavit business." Last night Mr. Hazelp said he regretted that it was necessary for him to disregard the request of Mr. Oliphant, but Mr. Barkley had dragged it into the campaign and it was necessary for him to defend his side.

From the first Mr. Hazelp discussed the bridge graft as he had gathered from the records, and showed how the committee had gone east on the junket, and on the return decided to build two concrete bridges. He said that Bert Johnson did not stand for re-election as road supervisor, but became a bidder for the work. He recited the difficulty that was had in giving the bid to the Vincennes Bridge company, and how hard the fiscal court tried to keep the lowest bidder from giving bond.

Mr. Hazelp produced the affidavit of W. L. Bower and read it to the audience, and then he told the complete story of how Mr. Oliphant took Mr. Bower into his confidence. On the night of August 3 Mr. Bower walked into a saloon and around a table sat Mr. Oliphant with a crowd of county officials. They laughed, and remarked that Mr. Bower resembled Mr. Oliphant, and for several hours Mr. Bower remained with the party. During the conversation Mr. Oliphant remarked that he wanted to purchase a tract of land. Following this, Mr. Bower told him of land in the county he owned, and that night arrangements were made with the Tully Livery company to furnish a rig early the next morning.

On August 4.

On August 4 Mr. Oliphant and Mr. Bower drove to the county, and after inspecting the land returned to the city, and on the return Mr. Bower swore that Mr. Oliphant made the statement about the fixing of the gang. Mr. Hazelp showed that the same day Mr. Bower told prominent Democrats of the statement, and it was the talk of the streets before it was mentioned in the campaign.

Mr. Hazelp said Mr. Bower was a man who would be in Paducah every day, and that he was a man whose veracity was never questioned except by Mr. Oliphant. He said Mr. Bower was a citizen who had no interest in the bridge graft, while Mr. Oliphant has not yet received his money for Friends Say He Was Forced Away; but Diaz People Declare He Resigned—Election Called in Nicaragua.

Mexico City, Oct. 22.—General Bernardo Reyes, governor of Nuevo Leon, acknowledged leader of Diaz's opponents, has disappeared. His position is assumed by Virgilio Garza, a Diaz adherent. There is great political excitement.

Official statements say Reyes resigned because of the strong sentiment against him. Friends say Reyes expected to be forced to retire so he left voluntarily. His friends say he was a great favorite. Official statements are only for sympathy. Opposition to Corral as vice president against whom Reyes was campaigning, is now stronger than ever.

Diplomats on the Job.

St. Louis, Oct. 22.—Acting on instructions from their governments, diplomats from the Latin-American republics who were going to accompany President Taft on the trip down the Mississippi to the New Orleans waterway convention from here, will stay at Washington. The information was received today by the Latin-American and Foreign Trade association in telegrams of regret from diplomats, who explained they are unable to attend the banquet arranged for them here Sunday night, the invitations to which already were accepted. According to their telegrams serious political disturbances in Central America are viewed by their governments so seriously that they are requested not to leave the capital at the present time.

Uncle John took lodging at the boarding house of Mrs. Allie Case, 314 Kentucky avenue, last night, and after noon today he became overbalanced with refreshments and cursed Mrs. Case. She notified the police and Patrolman Rice was sent after him. He refused to go and had to be dragged. At police headquarters he made an attack on Patrolman Rice, who overpowered him, and he was taken to the "bunkers."

However, the Paducah boys expect to win from Carbondale despite the fact that some of the best players are out of condition owing to injuries sustained last Sunday, and a general shift in the line will be made. Bower at right half is out of the game while Jones is holding down left half with a bad knee. Burton is out of the line and several new men had to be used.

MADAME CASTELLANO SAYS SHE IS QUITE INNOCENT.

Madame Castellano, a palmist at 918 Broadway, was arrested last night and taken to Henderson, Ky., to answer to a charge of robbery. Chief James Geary, of the Henderson police, arrived last night and took her back early this morning. The woman was arrested several days ago but the warrant was found faulty and she was released. Chief Geary returned with another warrant yesterday. The woman has protested her innocence and says it is a case of mistaken identity. She is the mother of a nine-months-old babe.

Lake Mohonk, N. Y., Oct. 22.—The conference of friends of the Indian and other dependent people here today adopted resolutions calling for naturalization of the Indians. It says the government is unfair in giving constitutional liberty to the Cubans, Porto Ricans and Hawaiians and not to the Indians. They say the Filipinos should not get self-government until the Indians do first. They say the Indians are next to slaves now.

MEXICAN FERRER.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 22.—M. Gutierrez Delara is in jail here. He was arrested while President Taft was here. He is wanted by Mexico. He says his case is parallel to Ferrer's. He says he is not an anarchist as he is accused. He never was an anarchist. He simply is a patriot, trying to get justice for the poor laboring classes of Mexico. He did nothing except what it was the humanitarian thing to do. He says if I am returned, I certainly will be murdered. Socialists have employed attorneys, but they are not allowed to confer with him until the department of justice at Washington decides.

COOK'S ESKIMOS TELL RASMUSSEN

DANISH EXPLORER SAYS THERE IS NO DOUBT OF THE DISCOVERY.

New York, Oct. 22.—The New York Times, which is antagonistic to the claims of Cook that he discovered the north pole, secured from the wife of Knud Rasmussen, the Danish explorer, a copy of a letter which the latter had written from the Arctic region.

This letter vindicates the truth of Cook's claim that he discovered the pole, so far as human evidence and circumstantial evidence can prove anything. Rasmussen talked with Eskimos who had knowledge of Cook's journey. He is convinced from what they said that Cook reached the pole.

Cook is Satisfied.

Toledo, O., Oct. 22.—That the statement of Knud Rasmussen is a valuable aid to the establishment of proof of his discovery of the north pole was, in substance, Dr. Frederick A. Cook's comment here. Rasmussen's statement is to the effect that Dr. Cook's claim is fully borne out by the information which the Danish explorer secured among the Eskimos.

Rasmussen Has Impression.

Stockholm, Oct. 22.—Dr. N. Otto G. Nordenskjold, the antarctic explorer, expressed himself today as much impressed with the word brought from Knud Rasmussen, the explorer now in Greenland, by the Greenland steamer Godthaab. Rasmussen is reported as quite convinced through talks with the Eskimos that Dr. Cook reached the north pole.

"The message from Rasmussen," Dr. Nordenskjold said, "leaves me without a doubt that Dr. Cook reached the pole as he stated."

PRESIDENT TAFT STARTS EAST FROM THE RANCH

Corpus Christi, Texas, Oct. 22.—President Taft's brief vacation ended this morning. He boarded the revenue cutter Winona and rode across the bay from his brother's ranch here. His speech this morning endorsed the waterways plans.

HEAR DEATH WAIL IN CHICAGO JAIL

PRISONERS CRY "DOWN WITH DENEEN" AND REFUSE TO STOP.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Andrew Williams, a negro, who murdered his wife last year, was hanged in the yard of the Cook county jail at 11 o'clock this morning. The first in two years. The prisoners set up a death wail, despite the efforts of the authorities, whipping them with horse whips. All would cry in unison in a low tone, possible to be heard a mile. When the authorities tried to force them to stop the prisoners cried, "Down with Deneen! Hang him!" They repeated this often against the governor.

NIGHT RIDERS IN LYON COUNTY ARE POLITICAL FORCE

Riding Over Country Nightly in Interest of Their Own Candidates.

Threats Are Used Where Persuasion Fails.

ARE EXPECTING IMMUNITY.

According to reports that have reached the city the night riders are active in Lyon county, but in the election instead of barn burning. It is said that the secret band is taking an unusually active part in the campaign for county officers, and if certain officers are elected one citizen said another reign of terror would be on in Lyon county. Voters are being intimidated, and threats made to make them stand in line for certain candidates known to favor the lawless element. Some of the members of the night riders are said not to be in line, and these in particular have received night visits as an argument why they should not fall out of line. Every night much riding is done by the workers in interest of certain candidates, and practically every section of the county has been covered by the workers. The workers for the law and order element are working hard, and are trying to carry the county, and prevent a repetition of the night rider depredations.

Pope Will Call a Consistory.

Rome, Oct. 22.—While the pope only recently seemed determined not to have a consistory until 1910, it is now suddenly announced that one will be held about the middle of December and another next spring. It is added that the reason for holding these consistories is for the purpose of appointing as cardinals in the second consistory certain prelates who cannot be included in the first.

Oklahoma Prisoners Escape.

Lawton, Okla., Oct. 22.—R. L. Byrd and Thomas Cook, convicted bootleggers, being worked on the county roads, last night fled off the shackles, appropriated two mules belonging to the road force and two overcoats belonging to guards, and guns, and escaped from the convict camp near Sterling. Officers are pursuing them toward the Texas line.

May Not Be Necessary to Operate on the Rev. John K. Mason.

A slight improvement is noticeable in the condition of the Rev. John K. Mason, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, at the Norton Memorial Infirmary. He was taken ill after the church service Sunday night and appears to be suffering from appendicitis. His condition has improved since his removal to the infirmary and the attending physicians have not determined whether an operation will be necessary. Dr. H. GOATS AND FOREST SERVICE.

Make Fine Breaks By Eating Brush Along the Trails.

The experiment of the forest service in using Angora goats in constructing fire breaks through the chaparral in the Lassen National Forest has met with such success that the government officials believe that the animals can be entirely denuded of its present growth of brush.

Two bands of goats were sent into the experimental area early in July. One was composed of ewes and lambs but owing to defective handling not as much was accomplished by them as by the other band, which was more ably handled.

The goats took to their new duties with a relish and the way in which they devoured the brush along the trails which had been constructed for them was a striking demonstration that their task met with their approval.

Another valuable disclosure of the experiment is the propensity of the animals to nibble at the bark of the manzanita trees, the destruction of which results in the death of the tree. The experiment of the forest service will be carried out and it is expected that the thinning out of the heavy brush growth and the destruction of the crooked manzanita will result in the safeguarding of the Lassen National Forest from destructive fires. —San Francisco Chronicle.

AUTO ORDINANCE IS DELAYED AGAIN

ALDERMAN POTTER FINDS FLAW IN THE MEASURE.

Mayor Smith and Alderman Lackey Will Be Sent to Meeting of Municipalities.

HAD MUCH MINOR BUSINESS.

The automobile ordinance was last night referred back to the ordinance committee for revision by the board of aldermen. Alderman Potter, who had carefully examined the ordinance discovered a flaw, which made no provisions for non-residents, owning machines in the city. This will delay the ordinance two more weeks before it can become a law.

Over the protest from residents on North Twelfth street from Trimble street to Salem avenue, an ordinance, providing for the improvement of the street with concrete sidewalks, was given first and second passages. First and second passages were also given the ordinance for the construction of sidewalks on Trimble street between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets.

Mayor James P. Smith with Ernest Lackey, chairman of the finance committee, was instructed to attend the meeting of the Mayor's Association of Kentucky, which meets October 23 at the Seelbach hotel, Louisville. The city will defray all expenses.

The board concurred in the recommendation of the joint finance and public improvement committee in accepting the bid of Herman C. Korpase, of Louisville, to repair the city hall clock and put in new dials. The bid was $650. The committee met prior to the aldermen and accepted this bid.

The request of the McCracken County Medical society to be relieved from paying a license for the carnival and street fair next week was granted. The streets will not be blocked during the day and wagons will be able to pass.

Other Business.

The matter of increasing the salaries of the two sanitary inspectors was referred to the finance committee.

A donation of $50 was made to the Tennessee River Improvement association. This has been the custom every year in aiding the work.

First and second passages were secured for the long talked of sidewalk ordinance from Meyers street from Farley street to Island creek bridge and from the other side of the bridge to the intersection of Fourth and Broad streets.

To the water company was referred a petition from property owners asking for the extension of water mains on North Twelfth street.

The board decided to purchase an indemnity policy while the work of improving the city hall is going on to protect the city in case of accidents. The cost will be $49.85.

The board of public works was directed to install a drainage sewer on Clay street between Ninth and Tenth streets for the surface water, under the direction of the city engineer.

Transfer of a lot in Oak Grove was made to B. M. Overstreet from heirs of M. J. Harris. Fred Roth was refunded $5 on account of the

has played havoc with the tresses of the fair sex, and druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage for making the old-fashioned "sage tea," such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair and restoring its natural color. The demand for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact, and has placed on the market an ideal "sage tea," containing sulphur, a valuable remedy for dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations. This preparation, which is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price. For sale and recommended by W. J. Gilbert.

No Rest Day or Night

"I would lay awake for hours without any apparent cause, or dream terrible dreams which would bring on extreme spells of nervousness. After taking Dr. Miles' Nervine and Tonic for awhile I could sleep well, and the nervous spells have left me." MISS ALMA HUG, R. R. No. 4, Canal Dover, Ohio.

Without sleep the nervous system soon becomes a wreck, and the healthful activity of all the organs obstructed. Restful, body-building sleep accompanies the use of Dr. Miles' Nervine because it soothes the irritable nerves, and restores nervous energy. When taken a few days according to directions, the most restless sufferer will find sleep natural and healthful. Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it all according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

Alderman Ernest Lackey was elected chairman pro tem in the absence of President Hannan. Alderman Sherrill and Hannan were the absentees last night. Present were Aldermen Lackey, Potter, Stewart, Durrett, Hank and Ochelslaeger.

HOW TO CURE SKIN DISEASES

This is the question that has baffled the medical profession for centuries. A great many medicines have been exploited for the cure of skin diseases without much success. Most of these remedies were salves or greasy lotions. While they might give temporary relief they did not have the power to destroy the germ life that causes the disease. You can now obtain from Mr. W. J. Gilbert, the druggist, a clean, vegetable liquid remedy for external use that will give prompt relief and permanent cure eczema and every form of skin or scalp disease. This remedy, which is known as ZEMO cures by drawing to the surface of the skin, and destroying the germ life that causes the disease. It can be used freely on infants. Mr. W. J. Gilbert says ZEMO gives the best satisfaction of any medicine he has ever sold for the treatment of all diseases of the skin or scalp.

News of Theatres

A play decidedly out of the ordinary will be the offering at The Kentucky next Monday evening, October 25, when petite Beulah Poynter comes in her new play "The Swamp Girl." "June Holly," the heroine of "The Swamp Girl," is a charming bit of sunshine, who is misplaced by being thrown into the coarse, rough life of a lumber camp. The love of the beautiful in life amounts to almost a passion. It is only natural that she should fall in love with the first representative of the outside world who came into her life. This love was more powerful than wise follows, but the fragile flower of a soul turns, and the former love is turned into an equal degree of bitterness. The story is worked out consistently and carefully and the final curtain finds the unhappy girl and rash lover standing on the road to happiness. Miss Poynter is supported by a cast of most excellent artists, including John Bowers, Joseph Kelvin, Edwina Levin, Nettie Louden, Claribel Worth, Edwin Dale, Harvey Hayes, Rose Watson, Ted V. Armond, John Reuben.

Sir!
At dinner the professor of history was seated between two young ladies who, in accordance with their training in the art of conversation, sought to draw him out upon the subject in which he was most interested. They did not meet with much success; his answers were short—"yes," "Oliver Cromwell," "No," "1492," and the like.

Finally one of them in desperation ventured:
"Professor, we were wondering only this afternoon, and none of us could remember: How many children did Mary, Queen of Scots, have?"
This was too much. "Madam," said the professor, facing her with squelching dignity, "I am not a scandalmonger." —Everybody's Magazine.

THIEF ROBS PRESSING CLUB DURING THE NIGHT.

A thief prized open the rear door of the Ideal Pressing club parlor, owned by Richard Montgomery, colored, near Fifth and Jefferson streets Wednesday night, and stole 2 coats, one pair of trousers and a pair of $6 shoes, the total value of which is about $40. Police were notified and two small white boys, whose homes are in Metropolis and who had been loitering around the shop, were suspected. They were sweated at police headquarters last night but no evidence was found against them and Chief Collins gave them hours to get back to Illinois. No clew has been obtained as to the robbery.

WON'T ELECTRIFY

ILLINOIS CENTRAL DIRECTORS VOTE AGAINST.

Motor Power Not Perfect and Cost Would Be Too Great, Says President.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 22.—Electrification was given a knock-out blow by directors and stockholders of the Illinois Central railroad at the annual meeting. President Harahan, as well as the directors and most of the stockholders, expressed themselves as of one mind that the time is not ripe for electrification. For the banishment of smoke prospects were held out that the only practicable remedies rested in the use of smokeless coal, coke or gasoline.

When the news of the Illinois Central action spread about the city, pronounced indignation was voiced. The only consolation handed to the public in connection with the anti-smoke crusade was statements in reports and by resolution, of the willingness to meet public demands by abating the smoke nuisance as far as practicable. The use of smokeless coal or coke and gasoline motor was the remedy the directors saw ahead.

Harahan Gives Reasons.
President Harahan, in his report, made four points against electrification, as follows: First, electricity has not been perfected sufficiently to warrant the installation of motor power, and it is not practicable; second, the cost is too great; third, the elimination of the smoke nuisance is the great thing to be accomplished, and it can be done in a more practicable way than by means of electrification; fourth, it is inadvisable for any road to attempt electrification until a comprehensive plan is agreed upon to be used by all railroads entering into Chicago.

Two new members of the board elected were Robert S. Lovett to succeed E. H. Harriman, and H. W. De Forest to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles M. Beach. Mr. Lovett was elected for two years. Walter Luttgen, John W. Ouchincloss and Robert Walton Goebel were re-elected to serve four years.

THEY GROW HAIR.

Certain Ingredients If Properly Combined, Stimulate Human Hair Growth.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered. Beta-naphthol is a most powerful, yet absolutely safe germicide and antiseptic, which prevents development of germ matter, and creates a clean, healthy condition.

Pilocarpine, although not a coloring matter or dye, is an ingredient well established for its power to restore natural color to human hair.

Borax, because of its well-defined softening and cleansing properties, is most useful in the treatment of scalp and hair diseases. Glycerine acts as a stimulant to the hair bulbs, and has a soothing, healing and nourishing influence. Alcohol is indispensable in medicine because of its antiseptic, stimulating and preservative qualities.

Recall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of these ingredients, which are compounded in a peculiar form, and we believe it is the most effective remedy known to medical science for scalp and hair troubles generally. We personally guarantee it to eradicate dandruff and scalp irritations and to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair, providing of course there is life and vitality remaining in the hair roots.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease, dandruff or loss of hair to try Recall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not remove dandruff and promote a growth of hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. This guarantee is printed on every package. It has effected most satisfactory results in 93 out of 100 cases where put to a practical test.

Recall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike and in every particular different from anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is recommended. We urge you to try it at our entire risk. Certainly we could offer no better guarantee. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Sold in Paducah only at our store.—The Recall Store.—W. B. McPherson, Fourth and Broadway.

KING ADAMS
OF SWAN ISLAND

HOLDS ALL THE OFFICES AND TAKES ALL THE GLORY.

Plucky American is Biggest Man in His Kingdom—Nation Has Less Than Hundred Subjects.

RULER OF PHOSPHATE LAND

Alonso Adams, king of Swan Islands in the Caribbean Sea, is the self-made ruler of two small sun-scorched phosphate islets about 100 miles off the north coast of Honduras. Compared to European standards of royalty, King Adams may not be an imposing figure in international circles, but he, according to the New York Evening Sun, is a big man on Swan Islands. He is his own secretary of state, and a few days ago when it became necessary for him to enter into diplomatic negotiations with the state department at Washington for the determination of the status of his kingdom he hailed a passing fruit steamer by wireless and came to the United States, landing at Boston.

King Adams does not use the wireless telegraph out of preference or because of any desire to be up to date. The wireless is his only means of communication with the outside world. The Swan Islands are off the regular lines of travel and there is no postal service, because the fruit steamers which ply the Caribbean do not stop at the islands except on special occasions. There is a wireless station on one of the islands, however, upon which King Adams relies for communication with the outer world. It is one of a chain established by the United Fruit company, operating between New Orleans and Colon.

Adams' realm includes the two islands known as the Greater and the Lesser Swan Island. The larger island is almost a mile and a half broad and two miles long. The smaller one has the same width and is about a mile and a half in length. They are difficult of access to steamers because of the rocky shore. The seat of government is a settlement on the larger or western island. They both are very flat and thickly wooded. They rise about 60 feet above the level of the sea. King Adams' loyal subjects include about 60 negro laborers, original from Jamaica, but now citizens of the island. They formerly dug phosphate out of the earth but at present they appear to be unemployed, as phosphate is no longer exported. At one time the annual output averaged about 10,000 tons. But the Swan Islands are not such a bad place, after all, to live in. Of course, the heat is intense during the day, but usually there is a cooling breeze at night. The soil is excellent and capable of producing all the tropical fruits. The inhabitants of the island grow their own vegetables. There are ten large tanks in which rain water is collected for drinking. In addition, there is a large distilling apparatus for use in the dry season. The islands abound with ducks, geese, pigeons and turtles.

Years ago, in the days when pirates infested the Caribbean Sea, these little islands may have furnished a base for the operations of some desperate bands of freebooters who sailed forth to prey upon trading vessels. But if such was the case these stirring tales of adventure are forever lost, for the islands have never had a historian or chronicler to relate the glories of their former days. The records do not go back beyond 1862, when the New York Guano company filed proof with the state department under the guano act of 1856 to secure the protection of the government in extracting guano from the islands. King Adams went there about 20 years ago as the representative of one of the guano companies which owned the right to extract guano. But the industry never seemed to flourish, and in 1903 the company which owned the islands instructed

Adams, then its agent, to discharge the employees and abandon the island. Adams carried out his instructions in December, 1903, and left. But he went back within a few months and claimed title to them by right of discovery. In 1904 attorneys representing Adams sent a letter to the state department inquiring if proof of his claim to the ownership of the islands would not thereby prejudice the rights of any prior claimant who might appear in the future. Since then the department has had no correspondence either with Adams or with his attorneys, and it is believed that his coming visit to Washington is to endeavor to obtain from the department some guarantee to his alleged title by right of discovery.

The government, however, does not claim ownership or sovereignty over the islands, but under the guano act of 1856 merely considers them as "appertaining" to the United States for the purpose of extracting guano. There are many other islands which are not within the lawful jurisdiction of any other government and which are not claimed by the citizens of any other government whose status is the same as that of the Swan Islands. Under the law seven principal facts must be established before the president of the United States, acting through the state department, can grant the right to extract guano from an unclaimed island. These are as follows: First, that a deposit of guano has been discovered on the island by an American citizen; second, that the island is not within the lawful jurisdiction of any other government; third, that it is not occupied by the citizens of any other government; fourth, that the discoverer has taken and kept peaceable possession thereof in the name of the United States; fifth, that the discoverer has given notice of the fact as soon as practicable to the state department on his oath; sixth, that the notice has been accompanied with a description of the island, its latitude and longitude; seventh, that satisfactory evidence has been furnished to the state department showing that the island was not taken out of the possession of any other government or people.

The United States has never claimed sovereignty over the island and has no power to determine disputes between citizens of the United States in regard to their rights in a guano island. In case that a dispute should arise the claimants would be obliged to vindicate their title in the federal courts. In the present case, however, Adams claims ownership to the islands by right of discovery after they had been abandoned by the guano companies.

Not much is known in this country about King Adams and his unique fight for the ownership of these islands, but mariners of the Caribbean, who know his story well, think of him every time they pass by the west end of the Greater Swan Island and see the fixed white light staring across the dark water from the only beacon on the island. Like many other branches of the government of the island, the lighthouse department is not as efficient as it might be. The charts of the hydrographic office of the navy department say that this beacon is "unreliable" because it is only lighted when an approaching vessel is seen.

CROSS FOR LIVING
MARBLE FOR DEAD

REPORT OF TREASURER WAS A FEATURE OF THE DAY.

Northern Historian and Publishers Searching for Records in South—Climax Comes.

SENTIMENT OF THE U. D. C.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 22.—Crosses of honor for the living veterans of the Confederacy; monuments for the dead—such was the sentiment expressed and voted most emphatically by the United Daughters of the Confederacy in the third day's session of their national general convention being held in Houston. The strife that developed over this question proved to be the greatest so far of the convention, and may be second only to the election of the general officers, which will be the final act of the convention.

The question of the award of crosses of honor was precipitated by a motion submitted by Miss Alice Baxter, of Georgia, who sought to have the lines broadened which were voted at the Atlanta convention, and which would give crosses to the lineal descendants of the veterans and to the relatives of those who fell on the field of battle. A motion was made by Mrs. Hattie Reynolds, of Kentucky, to provide crosses for collateral descendants of veterans, but this too, was voted down in the tightening of the lines which will furnish crosses of honor only to those of the grizzled veterans who have gone through the shock of battle.

Other than the settling of the vexing questions of the crosses of honor, the report of Mrs. L. Eustace Williams, of Kentucky, the treasurer-general, was a feature of the day's session. Her report showed during the year the receipts were $7,933.54, which, deducting expenses, left a balance on hand of $4,033.16. A motion was passed unanimously to vote $1,000 to the Arlington monument fund. A point that Mrs. Williams stressed was that the state tax should be sent to the state treasurer and not to the treasurer-general.

In the routine sessions the reading of state reports was resumed and continued until late in the day, interrupted only by the debate over the crosses of honor.

Note of Warning.

A note of warning was sounded by Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, historian general of the association, in that northern historical institutions and publishers were making a search of the south for the historical books and manuscripts. Mrs. Robinson declared a combination had been formed and that a representative was now working in the south for the valuable records. No mention was made of the firms back of the movement, but the warning was issued that a careful guard be made over the treasures of the south, as the impending offers had been made, the collection then to be exploited for private gain through publication.

The climax of the convention will come when the election of the general officers will be held and the selection of the next convention city. State makers are keeping in the dark as to the possible candidates, but it is said around the convention hall that Mrs. I. W. Faison, of North Carolina, and Mrs. Virginia McSherry, of West Virginia, are looming formidable for the president-general's chair.

The fight for the next convention city has narrowed down to Richmond, Va., and Little Rock, Ark., with sentiment much in favor of the Virginia city. Memphis, they say, will

ONE LESS BALD HEAD.

If You Are Losing Your Hair Read This Interesting Letter.

Gironx Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
Dear Sirs—"I was told of your great remedy, Parisian Sage, that it would grow hair on bald heads, so I got a bottle and tried it and it is fine. I am a young man and only twenty-five, and was completely bald on the top of my head and now I have hair one inch long with the use of only one bottle. I only wish I could have shown you my photo before the hair started to grow and how it is now. I shall certainly keep on using it until I have a good head of hair, which I have no doubt it will bring." Oscar Armstrong, Engineer, Belleville, Ont., August 21, 1909.

To every reader of The Sun the American makers of Parisian Sage wish to emphatically state that they do not guarantee Parisian Sage to grow hair on bald heads, because in the great majority of cases the hair roots are absolutely dead and not even the wonderful virtue of Parisian Sage can resurrect them.

Mr. Armstrong started to use Parisian Sage in time, before the hair root was entirely dead and in such a case there is no good reason why Parisian Sage should not restore his hair.

W. J. Gilbert guarantees Parisian Sage to remove every trace of dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back, but he does not guarantee it to grow hair on bald heads.

Sold by leading druggists all over America and in Paducah by W. J. Gilbert. Large bottle 50 cents.

The bottom of the boat is flat, with a horizontal plane on the forward keel to keep her steady. Daily Thought.

Worry is the most popular form of suicide.—Jordan.

It's a new theory the Wrights are teaching in the American art of war

—flying in the face of the enemy.

That bucking broncho is not the only disturber that has been quoted by Mr. President Taft sitting down on it.

Alfonso is looking for his Gaston;

but when he finds him, it won't be politeness, with which each will offer

the other the lead.

If you will pardon the suggestion:

The decision of the Illinois Central directors, regarding its terminals, did not electrify Chicago.

Unfortunately for Uncle Joe Cam-

mon those Republican insurgents whom he assails, regard his disapapproval as the highest endorsement of the righteousness of their ways.

William Randolph Hearst has never found anyone else, who so exactly,

meets all the requirements for a public reformer, as he does himself. Of course, the fact that he can find no one else, who meets his views, carries with it the correlative proposition that he meets the views of no one else.

GIVE THE PROPERTY OWNERS

FAIR PLAY.

More concrete sidewalk work has been authorized by the general council, contracts for which, if let according to the plan in vogue, will cost the property owners sixteen or eight-teen cents a square, while the same work is being done in Brookport, right across the Ohio river, for ten cents. This cost can be cut more than a third, by simply authorizing each property owner to have the work done according to specifications

furnished by the city engineer.

When large contracts are let and the contractor must collect from the property owners after the work is finished, only a man with thousands of dollars backing can bid; because he must be able to purchase his material and pay his men and wait for his pay. If each property owner is allowed to let his contract, a dozen men will bid at ten cents, where about three now bid at sixteen and eighteen cents. The work must be accepted, of course, by the city engineer, and if a property owner refuses to let his contract, the city can have the work done, and assess the cost.

That is a very simple remedy. It is practiced in other cities, where the work is done just as satisfactorily as in Paducah.

It is short time property owners were relieved of this excessive burden.

The esteemed News-Democrat, should either quit saying there was a big crowd at the speaking, or else quit saying the crowd was all for Barkley. It is scarcely probable that the whole countryside should be of one mind and yet evince sufficient interest in the subject of debate to attend it en masse. The News-Democrat has no reporters at the meetings. Does Gus Singleton or Alben Barkley report the debate?

THE NEWS-DEMOCRAT AND THE PULPIT.

Once more the News-Democrat pours the vials of its wrath on the Christian ministry. In the course of an editorial on the Barry-Eaton incident this morning it says:

"It is more than a matter of regret to observe that one of the crowd chiefly concerned in urging these men into doubtful paths occupies a position of the highest trust, a position which in the natural order of things, should be used to the end that men might be urged to be true rather than false, and that love rather than hate and prejudice might be engendered in the hearts of his fellow men."

Again in another column it says:

"The man who implies anything to which he could not make oath, if required to do so, is more malicious even than a scandal monger for the latter does not with malice aforethought tell the stories he has heard. And when such a man wears the liveliness of him who taught love and forgiveness and sent his followers out with love of fellow man as the foundation of his faith it seems that Judas Iscariot left his curse upon the land though he died the ignominious death he won for himself."

If the writer of those frenzied outbursts would consult his Bible he might find that "He, who taught love and forgiveness," was reviled and criticized and persecuted and misrepresented by an element of citizenship closely conforming in many respects to that element, which the News-Democrat represents in its policy of attacking the ministers today.

DOING IT TOO WELL.

"But now my task is smoothly done;

"I can fly, or I can run."

This seems to be the county ring's position on the stump.

Sometimes a thing can be done too well. A murderer usually leaves his claw in his effort to cover up his trail.

Charges were made that the county court house ring manipulated everything to their own use. Immediately, like an agitated ant hill,

the court house became busy demonstrating that fact.

State Revenue Agent W. M. Husbands brought suit against Hiram

Smedley and his bonding company for alleged peculations from the state. Prosecution was then commenced and the fiscal court adopted a resolution, turning the matter of a settlement over to County Attorney

Alben Barkley and County Judge

Lightfoot, the latter saying that they knew of matters connected with the Smedley shortage, of which Mr. Husbands was ignorant. Mr. Husbands proceeded with the collection of interest and penalty for the state by suit. Mr. Barkley and Judge Lightfoot settled with the bonding company for the county, allowing the company five per cent, forgiving the penalty and failing to include all the shortage in the compromise.

Failure to protect him angered

Hiram Smedley and he told the grand jury he knew of someone besides himself, who was using county funds.

No effort was made by Barkley to obtain further information, and no charge was made the grand jury on the subject before it was dismissed.

At the next term of court after the inspection of the books by John D.

Smith had corroborated him, Hiram Smedley was found to be insane and sent to Hopkintonville.

Bert Johnson, road supervisor, resigned to bid on concrete bridge work, and was beaten by a lower bidder. After efforts to prevent the acceptance of a bond, Johnson was appointed inspector for the county, and the whole unsavory affair ended in Johnson securing one of the contracts from the successful bidder.

Ugly stories were rife, and a grand jury, under the foremanship of R. L.

Nelson, investigated the matter with Alben Barkley, county attorney, in charge. Mr. Oliphant, the bridge man, accredited with the charge, was not summoned, though he evinced alacrity in coming here to deny the charge after the grand jury had whitewashed the ring; and one of the magistrates, who had information was not summoned.

Of course, the grand jury did not rest with finding no true bill, as in the case of petty suspects. But like the grand juries of Caloway and

Trigg, when Judge Cook submitted to them the question of whether he and Denny Smith, who was in charge of the jury, were night riders, it found the county ring to be composed of most estimable gentlemen and patriots.

Of course, also, Mr. Oliphant appeared here long after it became impossible for his testimony to avail anything in the prosecution, and swore to a statement of facts and a long argument supporting them, and then disappeared through the morning mist across the river.

Thus we have a grand jury in charge of the county attorney, ex-onerating the court house ring, and the man most concerned in the alleged

"fixing," denying under oath, that with which he might have been confronted in the grand jury room.

It all strengthens the charge that the court house ring is so well entrenched that its minions can control the machinery of justice through which alone the people hope for relief and redress, as long as they are in power.

Suppose Jonas Smith, who recently went to the penitentiary for life,

for killing his father, had prosecuted his own case with a chum for foreman of the grand jury. Does anyone believe that grand jury would have indicted him? Indeed, it would not. It would have exonerated him and declared in its report that Jonas Smith was the best natured darkey in Kentucky, and he must have been just teasing his father when the gun went off.

Then suppose Jonas had published an affidavit, saying he didn't shoot his father. He would have been exonerated—just as much exonerated as was the court house ring by a grand jury report with Alben Barkley prosecuting and J. T. Oliphant making an affidavit.

"Smooth runs the water where the brook is deep."

What lies hidden in the dark depths from curious eyes? Who can tell? John D. Smith, expert accountant, says $50,000 may have been misappropriated for all anyone can tell from the books. Hiram Smedley says other officers used the county funds, and Smith's report corroborates him. In spite of circumstances bearing out the charge of "fixing" in the bridge contract, a grand jury heaps encomiums on the administration, which we know permitted stealing for twelve years. That grand jury report evinced overmuch anxiety to establish the character of the county administration. It fits too nicely into the allegation that not only are theft and graft common at the McCracken county court house, but it cannot be exposed and punished without a complete cleaning out in every department.

It was all done too easily and smoothly to be convincing. The charge is made that the truth cannot be ascertained with the ring in control of the books, the letting of contracts and the administration of justice. Judge Ben B. Lindsay in his articles in Everybody's shows that justice is clogged by political rings. The first move of the night riders was to stuff the jury wheels. Every time a reform is undertaken in Cincinnati, it is found that the prosecuting officers are in the way. When a prosecuting attorney in Chicago began his vice crusade, he first found it necessary to get hold of the jury fixers.

If one is not wholly convinced that graft as well as proven stealing is permitted at the McCracken court house, he cannot be convinced graft does not exist, and must feel certain that it is impossible under the circumstances to get at the bottom of the matter. Give us a county judge, who owes no political debt to the ring; give us a county attorney, who is not only in sympathy with the crowd, but who is wholly at enmity with them and eager to prosecute them; give us a clerk, who will be anxious to search out irregularities of his predecessors, so that he may start with clean books; give us all other officers, whose inclination will be to add in the disclosures, rather than to hide delinquencies; and then, if the records of the ring stand clear under such a light, we may restore their credit; but who believes they would?

the erection of the Clark's river bridge, and perhaps would not have his work accepted by the fiscal court.

The Grand Jury.

Mr. Barkley stood by the report of the grand jury that the gang had not been fixed, and made insinuations as to the reputation of Mr. Bower. He said that anybody who came to the city and inquired could ascertain his reputation, but he hesitated about making assertions as to what it was. He read the affidavit of Mr. Oliphant, and said that he did not know Mr. Oliphant was coming to the city and the first he knew of his presence was when a farmer informed him that he was at the Milan school house. He denounced the affidavit of Mr. Bower as a slanderous falsehood, and in vehement language denounced anybody who tried to tear down the reputation of anybody else.

Smedley Settlement.

Mr. Hazelp took up the Smedley settlement and with his usual argument showed how Mr. Barkley had deprived the county of at least $2,500 in his rush to compromise. He also took up the finances of the county and showed how funds were overdrawn and spent extravagantly.

In his reply Mr. Hazelp took up the bridge graft for a further discussion and showed how the Lightfoot concrete plant was leased by Barry & Henneberger. He also cited that the same firm was furnishing the cement for the concrete bridges.

By his argument he showed how much of the statement alleged to have been made by Mr. Oliphant to Mr. Bower had proved true, and especially in regard to Bert Johnson taking the Perkins' creek contract. He also cited how Bert Johnson had remarked on the streets that Mr. Oliphant was trying to get out of his contract for the cement, but added that "he was not going to."

Throughout his fair treatment of the issues of the campaign Mr. Hazelp was given splendid attention and the Democratic voters listened with more than usual interest to the address, which was backed up with the records of the present administration, of which Mr. Barkley is a member. He promised the people of the district that he would not reduce taxes and then raise the valuation of property, so as to make up the reduction, as had been done in the Eighth district. He said he wishes the people to select their own members of the board of supervisors, and if elected he intends that the people shall have that right. He promised to give the county more and better roads at better cost. In addition to working the roads as usual Mr. Hazelp said he intends to give the people a chance to work out their road tax, and to see that the county prisoners serving time for misdemeanors assist in keeping the roads in repair.

Tonight the speakers will address the people at Lamont, while the county campaign will close Saturday. Saturday afternoon Rossington will be the scene of the debate, and Saturday night the Pleasant Ridge school house will see the close of the county campaign. Next week the candidates will invade the city and the entire week will be devoted to a discussion of the issues.

Congressman James at Heath.

Many hundred people were present today at the barbecue and picnic at Heath. This afternoon Congressman Ollie James made a speech to line up the Democrats straight for the ticket and with all of the oratory at his command pleaded with the Democrats not to scratch, but to give the "boys" another chance with the county administration.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Marriage of Couple Known Here.

The wedding of Miss Lena Douglass, of Franklin, Ky., to Charles Cheslie Moss, of Dyersburg, Tenn., was solemnized Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Main street Presbyterian church. The Rev. W. O. Nourse, of Hopkinsville, performed the ceremony. Mr. Moss is a prominent merchant of Dyersburg, Tenn. Miss Douglass is a daughter of Dr. J. C. Douglass, and is one of the most beautiful and highly cultured girls in Franklin, and her marriage was the chief social event of the season. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Moss left for a bridal trip to New York and other eastern points.

Brilliant Social Affair.

Wednesday night's session of the Interstate Library conference in session at Louisville was held at the Woman's club and was not only a most enjoyable literary entertainment, but a brilliant social event. The program, introducing such noted authors as Meredith Nicholson and Burton E. Stevenson, Madison Cawein, Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice and other Louisville authors, could not fail of appreciation. The opening address on "Poets and Poetry," by Demarchus C. Brown, of the Indiana State Library, was most enjoyable. Mr. Brown spoke first of the requisites of a successful librarian. A love of books is more necessary to the librarian than his technical training.

"He should know books and authors better than titles and shelves," said Mr. Brown.

Then speaking of poetry and its influence, Mr. Brown declared that it requires a high degree of courage to write poetry and offer it to publishers, and poets from "Homer to Cawein" were applauded for their valor. "When you don't know what to read take a chance on the poets," said Mr. Brown.

The authors who followed on the program were introduced by Miss Marilla Freeman, reference librarian of the Louisville Free Public Library, who performed the task in a most graceful manner, with especially well chosen remarks in the case of each and every celebrity.

Meredith Nicholson read a chapter from his unpublished novel, "The Heart of the Bugle." Mr. Nicholson is a pleasing reader and was heard with much satisfaction. The new novel will give "some glimpses into Democracy as I see it," said Mr. Nicholson.

He was followed by Burton E. Stevenson, whose introductory remarks were delightful. Mr. Stevenson told how he had tried to escape the reading assigned him, but found Miss Freeman inexorable.

"Then," said he, "I had the cherished hope that no copy of any of my books could be found in Louisville, and that I might escape on that score." This brought Miss Freeman to her feet with the statement that there had been some difficulty in finding the desired book, as of the 21 copies ordered by the library all were out on yesterday morning.

Mr. Stevenson was there with the book, however, "The Young Train Dispatcher," and read a delightfully humorous selection therefrom.

Cale Young, Rice and Madison Cawein read several of their own verses and Alice Hegan Rice and Mrs. George Madden Martin were represented by readers who did full justice to the selections.

At the close of the readings a delightful reception was held in the parlors of the Woman's club.—Louisville Evening Post.

Meeting of the State D. A. R.

The meeting of the D. A. R. will convene at 2 p. m. Thursday afternoon, and after the business session a reception will be held from 4 to 6 o'clock in the parlor of the Capital hotel.

There are several members of the D. A. R. in this city, but there is no chapter here and it is likely that one will be formed and steps are now being taken to have one and it is thought probable that Mrs. Samuel J. Shackelford, a granddaughter of Governor Magoffin, and a descendant of the Shelby family, will be the regent.

The meetings of the D. A. R. will be open to the public and as they will be very interesting a large crowd will no doubt be in attendance.—The Frankfort News of October 20.

Kalosophic Club.

The Kalosophic club met at the Woman's club this morning at 10 o'clock. The program was delightfully featured as follows:

1. Louis IX, La Sainte Chappelle—Miss Ethel Morrow.
2. Margaret of Provence—Miss Clara Park.
3. Conditions of France during the Reign of Louis VII and His Successors—Mrs. W. F. Bradshaw, Jr.
4. Current Events—Miss Anna May Yeiser.

Dresden Wedding of Interest Here.

A press dispatch from Dresden, Tenn., says: "Mr. T. M. Little, owner and manager of the Dresden Spoke company, the leading industrial enterprise of the town, and Mrs. Lula Woods, a prominent and successful business woman, were quietly married at her home here Tuesday night. Rev. J. W. Irion officiating. Several weeks ago Mrs. Woods lost her business house and stock of goods by fire, since which time she has retired from business. Both Mr. Little and his bride are members of the town's most prominent families. They have resided as neighbors for nearly twenty years."

VEGETARIANISM AND SPAGHETTI

Faust Brand Spaghetti adds a new joy to vegetarianism because it is not limited to a single dish. In fact no other daily food can be served in such a great variety of appetite-tempting ways. And how nourishing it is!

Wonderfully strength-producing and sustaining, and so easy on the digestion. It is a food that means family health—food economy, and satisfaction in the kitchen. Think of it! No matter how many "herecticks" people there are in the family, there can be a new treat every day to please everybody—whether for first, second or last course. And no matter how often it has been served before, the cook will never be at a loss to serve it a new way. That's Faust Spaghetti. Sold only in sealed packages. All grocers. Five and ten cents. Write for free book of useful recipes.

MAULL BROTHERS, ST. LOUIS, MO.

their children growing up together." Mr. Little is a brother of Mr. John W. Little of Paducah and is well known in this city.

Pretty Afternoon Tea at Club House.

A delightful social event as well as a financial success was the Charity Tea at the Woman's club house yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. It was under the auspices of the Philanthropic department of the club, of which Mrs. Charles Kiger is the newly elected chairman.

The club house was effectively decorated with autumn leaves and wild flowers. Chrysanthemums were the charming decorations of the tea table. Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, the outgoing chairman, presided here, and was assisted by Mrs. Kiger, Mrs. James P. Smith and Mrs. Harry McElwee. Tea and sandwiches were served during the afternoon.

The sale of delicious home-made candies was a popular feature. Mrs. Henry Rudy and Mrs. Sydney Loeb had charge of the candy table.

An attractive musical program was informally rendered. Mrs. Lena Wade Lewis and Miss Mabel Shelton sang with charm. Mrs. Will Clark gave the violin numbers with artistic effect.

There were many visitors present and the free-will offering was a genuine one.

BLOODY HISTORY OF THE CONGO

New York, Oct. 22.—The atrocities that have been committed in the Congo country, instigated by King Leopold's government, are graphically portrayed in a book now being published by Doubleday, Page & company. The author is Sir A. Conan Doyle. The Hearst News service has been permitted to see the advance sheets and it is a story so bloody, so horrible, so ghastly true that the whole civilized world must shudder when its contents become known.

Sir Conan Doyle convincingly describes the massacres now going on in the Congo, that they are not only unobjectionable to King Leopold, but, in many instances the blood of the natives rests inevitably on the hands of the monarch himself. The author makes a ringing appeal to the United States to intervene and stop the slaughter that is now going on, now that the rubber trust may grow richer.

He says: "There is a very special reason why America and England should not stand by and see these people done to death. They are in a sense their wards. America was the first to give official recognition to King Leopold's enterprise in 1884 and so has the responsibility of having actually put him in that position which he has since so dreadfully abused. She has been the indirect cause of the whole tragedy. Surely some reparation is due.

Treaty Responsible.

"On the other hand, England has, with the other European powers, signed the treaty of 1885, by which each and all of them make itself responsible for the condition of the native races. The other powers have so far shown no desire to live up to this pledge. But the conscience of England is uneasy, and she is slowly rousing herself to act. Will America be behind?

"Attempts have been made, too for there is considerable ingenuity and unlimited money on the other side, to pretend that it is a question of Protestant missions against Catholics. Any one who thinks this should read the book, 'La Question Kinkolaise,' of the eloquent and holy Jesuit, Father Vernersch. He lived in the country, and, as he says, it was the sight of the 'immeasurable misery' which drove him to write.

"We English who are earnest over this matter look eagerly to the westward to see some sign of moral support of material leading. It would be a great sight to see the banner of humanity and civilization carried forward in such a cause by the two great English-speaking nations."

HEAVY LIGHT-HOUSE KEEPER

WEIGHT LOSES GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEE HIS JOB.

United States Could Take Lessons in Forestry From European Nation.

GOSSIP FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—(United Press).—Two much avoidable deaths of one of Uncle Sam's lighthouse keepers a lucrative job. The facts in the case came to light at the Department of Commerce and Labor while Chief Clerk Weed was delving into the "efficiency reports" of some of his employees.

Some time during the last month of the Roosevelt administration the faithful keeper of the government light house at Jones Point, just south of Alexandria, Va., on the Potomac, died, leaving a widow and a daughter without visible means of support.

An effort was made to have President Roosevelt suspend the regulations and permit the widow to act as the keeper, it being shown that during the illness of her husband she had apparently performed most of his duties. At the last moment, however, it was discovered that she was too corpulent. She couldn't wedge herself through the manhole that led to the light in order to clean the lenses. Whereupon the president reluctantly had to give up the idea of appointing her.

Most of the beacons kept alight by the government have a light chamber large enough to admit the keeper. In some of the smaller ones, it is quite a squeeze for an average sized man to worm through the entrance. The Jones Point lighthouse, being only a river warning, and in a situation not particularly hazardous, is a tiny little one. The former keeper happened to be an under-sized runt of a man who was able to scramble up into the lamp chamber without difficulty.

America might well take a lesson from Italy in making hay while the sun shines, so far as the preservation of forests is concerned. The peninsula kingdom awakened nearly a generation ago to the evil effects following denudation of the forests, and at a time when there wasn't much timber left, started in to plant new forests.

Report of this work for the last thirty odd years has just been made by the Italian secretary of agriculture. During that time, it is estimated that 122,000 acres have been planted in twenty-five of the provinces of the nation. Of this area, 69,000 acres about 1908 miles—was planted in the year 1907 alone. The expenditure for that year was something like $2,000,000, but the work gave employment to many men, and the investment is worth it.

The Italian secretary of agriculture now estimates that there remains now 36,000 acres of government land in need of planting. During all the time that the government has been planting trees, every facility has been extended to private owners to start new forests on their lands. During the last forty years more than 133,000,000 young trees and 237,000 pounds of seed—an amount sufficient to restock approximately 100,000 acres of land—have been furnished to private owners. As the forest area of Italy amounts to only slightly more than 10,000,000 acres, this planting by the government and private persons has amounted to nearly one-fourth of the total forested area.

PARIS HAS GOOD DOG POLICE

They Show They Can Catch Criminals and Hold Them When Caught.

The police dogs of Europe figure so frequently in continental newspapers that the least credulous reader must believe the brutes both useful and ornamental. That impression deepens when one learns that about a hundred such dogs are now "on duty" in the suburbs of Paris, at no expense to the public, the officers whom they accompany valuing the service so highly that they willingly bear the cost of training and maintenance. It was Ballon, a police dog, which recently caught "Bamboula, the Terror," chief of a dangerous gang of Apaches. By way of reward Ballon was permitted to help escort him to the station. That proved a wise precaution as well as a generous deed, for the Terror tripped one of the officers and would have made good his escape had not Ballon promptly jumped on his back, pinned him to the ground and fixed him by the ear. With gentry like the Terror French justice works with dramatic swiftness. He will be safely dead ages before Ballon has lost any of his agility or his teeth. It seems that the least admiring municipality should do for the dog that suppressed the nuisance as to put him on the official pay roll.—Boston Transcript.

UNITED STATES AND PHILIPPINES

THE MOHONK CONFERENCE DISCUSSES PROBLEM.

Congressman Driscoll Says Government Made Mistake in Taking Up Island's Affairs.

HE MEETS WITH DISSENT

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., Oct. 22.—The problems growing out of the American occupation of the Philippines were discussed at the session of the Mohonk conference. Congressman Driscoll, of Syracuse, who accompanied the Taft party to the Philippines, declared "the entrance of the United States into the affairs of the islands is a matter for regret," and that the "principles for which the American nation stands are being violated by our remaining there," and this met with emphatic dissent from other delegates.

Dr. J. D. Burks, director of the Philippine bureau of municipal research, who recently spent six months studying the school system of the Philippines, declared the Filipinos are pleased and satisfied with American control, and added: "The nation will not have discharged the obligation which it deliberately took upon itself until it establishes, not merely in form, but in fact, an institution of democracy among this people."

"This is the greatest program to which the nation ever pledged its credit. Its success means a complete readjustment of the relations between the east and west. From the true position in the Philippines there comes the obligation of leading the orient in intellectual and social reconstruction, perhaps the most significant in all history. We must not, we cannot, prove unequal to this great task."

"The declaration of independence has been invoked as an unanswerable reason why the United States should withdraw from the Philippines. There were times in the civil war and many other times when the nation has interpreted the principles of the declaration by the logic of experience and actual conditions. There is a sense in which the ideas of the declaration are fundamentally eternally true. In that sense it is the obligation of the United States to insure life, property and the pursuit of happiness to 8,000,000 ignorant and helpless people."

Gerónimo H. Huising, a Filipino student from Lowell, Mass., Technical school, addressed the conference.

Plea for Filipinos.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Col. J. G. Harbord, assistant director of the Philippine constabulary, delivered an address before the Lake Mohonk Conference of Friends of the Indian and other Dependent Peoples, in which he paid a high tribute to the Filipino people, and forecasted their political and commercial future. The speaker dwelt upon their politeness, their devotion to home and family, and their unlimited hospitality. He declared that the great majority

DREADFUL DISEASE IS CURED BY CUTICURA

"My six year old daughter had the dreadful disease called hives for two months. She became affected by playing with children who had it, although we did not know it. By scratching she caused large sores which were irritating. Her body was a complete sore but it was worse on her arms and back. We employed a physician who left medicine but it did not help her and I tried several remedies but without avail. Seeing the Cuticura Remedies advertised, I thought I would try them. I gave her a hot bath daily with Cuticura Soap and anointed her body with Cuticura Ointment. The first treatment relieved the itching and in a short time the disease disappeared. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies for all skin diseases and give them my greatest praise. Mrs. Geo. L. Fridhoff, R. F. D. 1, Warren, Mich., June 30 and July 13, 1908."

I used different kinds of things but each kind made it worse until I read of the Cuticura Remedies, and one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment cured him like magic. I would not be without it in the house and I have recommended it to all my friends. Mrs. J. Maxwell, 6th St., Woodside, Long Island, N. Y., May 21, 1908."

The New Canadian Railroad Saves 1,300 Miles.

Prince Rupert is 1,250 miles north of the latitude of San Francisco. It is a remote line, this New Line. That is, it seems remote, thinking provincially. Thinking cosmopolitanly, it is a world thoroughfare.

From Liverpool to Yokohama, if you go by way of Quebec and Prince Rupert, you will go 9,517 miles. If you dip down south and go by way of New York and San Francisco you will go 10,830 miles. You save more than 1,300 miles by taking the inner circle around the north pole that is furnished by the more northern route.

Still more surprisingly, a letter starting from Chicago and choosing to go by Prince Rupert instead of by San Francisco, will save 600 miles by the time it reaches Japan.—William Hard, in the November Everybody's.

In using dogs as aids to sentries, the Italian army, as a Roman newspaper points out, has merely revived a custom prevalent with the ancient Greeks and Romans.

"Hyomel did me a world of good when I had chronic laryngitis; in fact effected a cure after all the best specialists had given me up as a bad job. I tried Hyomel the same as I had tried hundreds of other things that people or doctors would recommend. They all failed except Hyomel, and this effected a cure that has been lasting. All my troubles happened 12 years ago and I had ought to be ashamed not to have written you before. At first I waited to see if the cure was permanent or not, and when you realize that for five winters before I used Hyomel that I could not speak above a whisper and sometimes not at all, you can judge why I waited with a good deal of anxiety for time to tell if I was really cured or not."—E. ARE HOLDING OFF.

Mayfield, Ky., Oct. 22.—The tobacco situation just now "is at a standstill, while the past year at this season it was almost at fever heat. Much canvassing and speaking has been done this year, too, in order to get the farmers to sign their crops of tobacco with the Planters' Protective association, but only a very small number have signed. The farmers say that they are willing for the independent buyers to come around, and if they offer satisfactory prices they will sell their crop at once and get rid of any further trouble.

KILLS LEOPARD BARE-HANDED

ROOSEVELT WRITES OF THRILLING BATTLE IN JUNGLES.

Took Three Bullets to Dispose of the Lion, Which Was Charging Upon Roosevelt Party.

BEAST WAS CHOKED TO DEATH.

New York, Oct. 22.—Theodore Roosevelt, writing in the November number of Scribner's Magazine, gives his impressions and experiences of an East African ranch—which in many ways reminds him of early days on the plains of the great west and then plunges directly into an account of his first encounters with big African game.

"The dangerous game of Africa," he says, "are the lion, buffalo, elephant, rhinoceros, and leopard.

"The hunter who follows any of these animals always does so at a certain risk of life or limb; a risk which it is his business to minimize by coolness, caution, good judgment and straight shooting. The leopard is in point of pluck and ferocity more than the equal of the other four, but his small size always renders it likely that he will merely maul, and not kill a man.

"My friend, Carl Akely, of Chicago, actually killed, bare handed, a leopard which sprang on him. He had already wounded the beast twice, crippling it in one front and one hind paw, whereupon it charged, followed him as he tried to dodge the charge and struck him full just as he turned.

Choked the Beast.

"It bit in one arm, biting again and again as it worked up the arm from the wrist to the elbow, but Akely threw it, holding its throat with the other hand and flinging its body to one side. It luckily fell on its side with its two wounded legs uppermost, so that it could not tear him. He fell forward with it and crushed in its chest with his knees until he distinctly felt one of its ribs crack.

"This, said Akely, was the first moment when he felt he might conquer. Redoubling his efforts, with knees and hands he actually choked and crushed the life out of it though his arm was badly bitten."

Mr. Roosevelt devotes considerable space to telling how he brought to bay and finally killed a lion. The description begins at a point where the hunter is standing beside his mount, considering what he shall do if the lion charges and cannot be stopped by a well directed shot. The writer continues:

Lion Charged Him.

"Now, an elderly man with a varied past, which includes rheumatism, does not vault lightly into the saddle, as his sons, for instance, can, and I had already made up my mind that in the event of the lion's charging it would be wise for me to trust to straight powder rather than to try to scramble into the saddle and get under way in time.

"I still could not see the lion when I knelt, but he was now standing up, looking first at one group of horses and then at the other, his tail lashing to and fro, his head held high and his lips dropped over his mouth in peculiar fashion, while his harsh and savage growling rolled thunderously over the plain. Seeing Simba and me on foot he turned toward us, his tail lashing quicker and quicker.

"Resting my elbow on Simba's bent shoulder, I took steady aim and pressed the trigger. The bullet went in between the neck and shoulder and the lion fell over on his side, one fore leg in the air.

Three Shots Did It.

"He recovered in a moment and stood up, evidently very sick, and once more faced me, growling hoarsely. I fired again at once, and this bullet broke his back just behind the shoulders, and with the next I killed him outright, after we had gathered round him."

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS

FIGHT BEING PROMOTED BY THE LOCAL PHYSICIANS.

They Are Personally Promoting Newly Formed League—The Street Fair.

Steps are being taken by the McCracken County Medical society to perfect the organization of the Anti-Tuberculosis League. The state medical association has taken up such an organization and at the present time all the county medical societies in the state are organizing these leagues to fight the White Plague. A short time ago the McCracken county society organized but the officers remain yet to be elected. In control of the movement is the executive committee of the county society, composed of Drs. Stewart, Bass, Rivers, Sights and Pulliam. It is expected that the complete organization will be effected in a few weeks.

All members of the society are taking an interest in the coming street fair and carnival next week. Physicians have "tagged" their bugles and autos with posters, advertising the carnival. Funds will be derived from this to further the movement against tuberculosis. Drs. Stewart, Sights, Della Caldwell, Blythe, Purcell and Reynolds have all returned from attending the state medical meeting at Louisville and pronounce it the most successful ever held and also having the largest attendance for any previous meeting. The physicians stated that much interest was manifested in the movement against tuberculosis, cancers and the suppression of criminal practice in some classes of the profession. The next annual meeting will be held at Lexington, Ky., and a larger attendance from this city is expected than this year.

FROM HOSPITAL

CONVALESCENT CITY PATIENT MAKES HIS ESCAPE.

Ed Smith, of Nashville, Charged With Carrying Away Another's Clothing.

Ed Smith, a convalescent patient at Riverside hospital, it is alleged, escaped through a window in the city ward between midnight and dawn this morning, carrying off the clothing of another patient. The discovery was made this morning and Smith had donned better clothing than his own and fled unnoticed.

His home is in Nashville and he was admitted to the hospital October 8 for treatment. He was rapidly improving and was last seen at midnight when he was apparently fast asleep. He dropped to the ground ten feet below and fled. The police were notified this morning but have been unable to locate him.

STILL THE REPORTS COME IN

Wonderful Benefits Being Given By the Quaker Remedies

The reports now being made by those using the wonderful Quaker Herb Extract and Oil of Balm are coming in so fast that it would be an almost Herculean task to prepare each one individually for publication. Therefore Fisher, the Quaker Health Teacher, has had only time enough to list a few of the ones most important on account of the really remarkable nature of the benefits received. Yesterday there were eight reports of great improvement in cases of Catarrh, seven in cases of rheumatism, four in cases of stomach trouble and three in cases of minor ailments of children. This places Catarrh at the head of the list, and goes to show that there is a prevalence of that disease in this city. Catarrh, as is generally supposed, is not a disease of the head only, but is an irritated condition of the mucous lining of the entire inner system. There can be catarrh of the stomach, of the kidneys, of the bladder, or of the head. No matter where it is located, it is dangerous if allowed to go without treatment. Being a blood-germ disease it must be cured by a treatment intended for the blood, not by atomizers, douches, sprays, balms, etc., which never cure, for the simple reason that they do not reach the irritated mucous lining. Fisher claims the Quaker Herb Extract to be a cure for Catarrh in any form, and when he says cure he means cure—not temporary relief for a few weeks. If you suffer with this, the most bothersome of human ailments, and are disgusted at not having found any relief, don't give up, but come and talk to Fisher, for it costs nothing—and when you have tried the Quaker Remedy you will voice your sentiment, as others are doing every day—you will say: "Quaker Herb Extract has cured my Catarrh."

For Rheumatism, Kidney, Liver, Stomach or Blood troubles, the Quaker Herb Extract is a cure also. It is a worm and germ destroyer as well. Any person having a tapeworm may have a bottle free, to prove that this remedy expels them. Fisher is at McPherson's drug store, Fourth and Broadway, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily.
